

PORTLAND AND VICINITY.

New Advertisements To-Day.

Clothing - J. M. Merrill & Co.
 Suits - J. M. Merrill & Co.
 Hats - J. M. Merrill & Co.
 Boots - J. M. Merrill & Co.
 Shoes - J. M. Merrill & Co.
 Trunks - J. M. Merrill & Co.
 Bags - J. M. Merrill & Co.
 Luggage - J. M. Merrill & Co.
 Traveling - J. M. Merrill & Co.
 Clothing - J. M. Merrill & Co.
 Suits - J. M. Merrill & Co.
 Hats - J. M. Merrill & Co.
 Boots - J. M. Merrill & Co.
 Shoes - J. M. Merrill & Co.
 Trunks - J. M. Merrill & Co.
 Bags - J. M. Merrill & Co.
 Luggage - J. M. Merrill & Co.
 Traveling - J. M. Merrill & Co.

New England Soldiers' Relief Association.

We direct the attention of our citizens to the special notice in our columns of the New England Soldiers' Relief Association, of Philadelphia, which has for its object the direct relief of our brave New England soldiers in the hospitals of that city and vicinity.

One of the most valuable specialties of this institution is that of preparing for transportation, at small cost, the bodies of such as may die in the hospitals, and sending them home free of expense to such as are unable to pay. Visiting committees are constantly in attendance at the hospitals, supplying our men with such comforts as are not otherwise provided.

Sets of Books of each of the New England States are kept by the Association, containing the names and home address of all New England officers and men in these hospitals, open to the public; and all necessary information is furnished either by written communication or personal application. Upon the death of any soldier, notice is given to his friends.

Mr. Hancock, the special agent, who is now in this city for the purpose of soliciting aid in behalf of the Association, will meet with the directors and officers of the Association, and will be glad to hear from our citizens. He proposes to make a personal call, and his address is at the United States Hotel.

Last Night but Two of the Opera.
 The success of the "Campbell & Castle Opera Troupe," has been quite unprecedented. Full houses have succeeded each other, and we can congratulate the managers on the satisfaction each opera has afforded, and on the admirable style in which they have been presented.

To-night the "Rose of Castile" will be given for the first time, and as it is the work of that eminent composer BALFE, we may safely anticipate a feast of melody. The story of the Opera is full of interest, and is filled with intrigues, disguises, love, and all that contributes to make a Spanish romance.

We will not anticipate the curiosity of our readers by unveiling the disguises of the young "Queen of Castile," and "Manuel," the pretended Mulatto, nor will we expose the plots of "Don Pedro" and his conspiring associates.

We will only say that we feel assured that in the hands of Miss Fanny Stockton, Mr. Ostell, and Mr. Campbell, the principal characters will receive full justice. Miss Fowler, Mr. White and Mr. Birch each have prominent parts, and will greatly add to the general effect. The Opera is said to abound in musical gems, and we fully expect a rich entertainment.

Municipal Court, Nov. 30.
 John O'Neil pleaded guilty to a search and seizure process, and paid the statute fine of $20 and costs.

John Brady, for drunkenness and disturbance, was fined three dollars and costs, which he paid.

The case of the libel of late seizure some weeks since from John Bradley was continued to Friday.

PORTLAND TURNERIE.—This Association has fitted up rooms in the Morton Block, and last evening an entertainment was given to a large number of ladies and gentlemen who had been invited to witness it.

The first performance was by Messrs. Sawyer, Russell, Davis, and Shaw on the piano-forte. Then followed a broadsword exercise by Professor Ross. Messrs. Howe and Bachelder then performed on the trapeze.

This was succeeded by exercises with the clubs by Prof. Ross and Mr. Cole. Then came exercises on the horizontal bar by the whole class.

Prof. Ross, who is engaged to teach in sparring and fencing, received great applause for his evolutions.

After the performances of the Turnverein were concluded, dancing commenced, in which a large portion of the invited company joined.

We congratulate the Association upon getting into such good quarters. They have got everything fixed up in good shape, and it is evident they are improving themselves in health and strength.

M. L. Association's Fourth Lecture.—This lecture will be delivered this evening in New City Hall by Rev. Dr. Bellows of New York. The subject, California, Dr. Bellows has recently passed several months in the Golden State and studied its history, progress, institutions, various departments of business, natural resources and the present state of society. He will give us a glowing account of that Eldorado. We expect to see a crowded house on this occasion. The lecturer wears a graphic pen and possesses an eloquent tongue, so look out for something rich, rare and racy. The phrase, "secure seats early," has become as familiar as household words, yet there is sometimes much meaning in it, and sometimes the very need of it.

Prosecution is the thief of time, and we are sometimes compelled to utter the appalling words "Too Late."

Afflicting Event.—Reuben H. Soule of Co. E, 29th Maine Regiment, died at the house of his father in this city Tuesday night, from disease contracted during the Red River campaign. Mr. Soule had previously lost one brother, who was killed at the battle of the "Wilderness," and now is called upon to give another at the altar of his country.

The deceased was a young man of excellent character and habits—a printer by trade—and formerly worked in the Advertiser office. His death will cause grief not only in the family circle, but also among all his acquaintances.

CHURCH PROPERTY.—The proprietors of the Congregational church, corner of Congress and Pearl streets, have voted to sell their house and lot, and have the proper legal steps to carry the vote into effect. The property will be sold at auction.

The parish now occupying that house have voted to remove to the new church on High street, as soon as that edifice can be made ready for occupancy.

"Music" is very likely just in his nomination of a successor to the late place of Portland's favorite "songstress," now down; but we cannot publish a note which uses a lady's name even in compliment, without knowing its author. We are entitled to know this much as a guarantee against imposition.

The notice of the opera which appeared in the Press yesterday morning should have had a star (*) attached. It was not written in that style, but was communicated. We say this that we may not receive credit for musical discrimination to which we are not entitled. All the previous notices were editorial.

The Toilet Preparations of Joseph Barnett & Co. of Boston, are the "plus ultra."

SPARROW.

SPARROWS are indebted to WARREN SPARROW, Esq., the indefatigable and accommodating Life Insurance Agent of this city, for a basket of pears, several varieties, raised by him in his garden in Westbrook. Mr. Sparrow raises about seventy-five distinct varieties, so that his table is garnished with them during the late summer and autumn, and his cellar is well stocked nearly all the year.

MESSRS. EDWELL & MORRILL have taken the rooms No. 167 Middle street, where they have newly fitted up, where they will pursue the business of hair dressing. They are both experts at the business, and it only needs a person to be under their hands once to confess the fact. If you want a clean shave and a good hair dressing give them a call.

DETENTION.—In consequence of a freight train getting off the track at Yarmouth yesterday, the passenger train from Augusta was detained nearly two hours, and did not connect with the train for Boston.

BY TELEGRAPH.

THE EVENING PAPERS.

From Georgia.—Movements of Gen. Sherman.
 WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.
 Some recently exchanged reports have been received from Savannah that when they arrived at Savannah from Milan, they were badly treated, and furnished with the best food that could be procured. The people indicated that there were forces under Beauregard and Johnston at Macon and Augusta to which they would encounter them, and that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th contains contradictory statements as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to crossing the Oconee River. It says the column operating on the Georgia road, kept on the western side of the river, and did not believe that they would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide where to concentrate their forces. At Savannah there were about 1,500 men, who could make but feeble resistance.

TELEGRAPH.

Portland Daily Press.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.
 Admiral Farragut reports the capture of the schooner "Edward" on the 31st, which had run the blockade out of Galveston, Texas, with 150 bales of cotton.

The mail steamer from City Point, reports that heavy artillery firing was heard early yesterday morning on the north side of the James River, in the vicinity of Dutch Gap. The gunboats were also supposed to be at work. Firing had nearly ceased at 11 o'clock. Particulars not received.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

Reports to the Navy Department show that extraordinary efforts were made by the Atlanta as well as those on board the Florida to save the latter vessel, and it was only when the impossibility of preventing her from sinking became apparent, that future attempts were abandoned.

PORTLAND.

Five Cents Savings Bank.

CHARTERED IN 1859.

Exhibit for October, 1864.

OFFICE CORNER OF PLUM AND MIDDLE STS.
 OPEN EVERY DAY DURING BUSINESS HOURS.

The Twenty-Sixth Annual Dividend was declared at the last meeting of the Board, on the 1st of October, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

The State of Maine Bonds, 1864, at the rate of six per cent per annum, without deduction of interest.

ARTISTS.

REMOVAL.

A. M. McKENNEY.

Photographic Establishment.

284 CONGRESS STREET.

Corner of Centre, opposite Public House.

Having fitted up the largest and most elegant

Photographic Establishment

in New England, with Reception and Exhibition

Rooms on the Ground Floor, and added to it a Frame Manufactory.

for all kinds of Frames, both Mirror and Pictures

Also—

All kinds of Engravings,

Fancy Cards, Photograph Albums, Fancy and

ITI MEDICAL

FOR THE NATION

COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE

The World's Great Remedy

—FOR—

Dyspepsia and Indigestion

AND ALL

Diseases

OF THE

STOMACH AND BOWELS

Prepared by the Proprietors of "Coe's" Cures

"Bile,"

Dyspepsia is not only the sure forerunner of indigestion, but the companion of a miserable life. It has been called the Nation's scourge; for more people both old and young, men and women, are afflicted with it than with any other ailment. It is the result of indigestion, and is characterized by a general weariness and total lack of vigor and energy. The patient is unable to do his or her usual work, and is almost always depressed and dejected. The stomach power is almost always impaired, and the food is not properly digested. The bowels are constipated, and the patient is afflicted with

Headache, Heart-thrill, Constipation, Nausea at Stomach, and General Debility of the whole System, refusing its subjects a particle of nourishment, and rendering life a weary and a painful one. In the morning, the patient awakes heavy food, without paying the penalty in the evening distress, and oftentimes completely unable to eat. In the afternoon, the patient is unable to do his or her usual work, and is almost always depressed and dejected. The stomach power is almost always impaired, and the food is not properly digested. The bowels are constipated, and the patient is afflicted with

"DOE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE"

not in a year—not in a month—not in a year
 you shall see the beneficial influence at once.
 distasteful, and the day dawns to you who lived for years upon Bread and plain food, who do not eat of the Bread of Life, and first, because the Doctor has ordered the plain food, and secondly for the fact that the rising and souring on your stomach, weary to your dinner, eat as heavily a meal as you and as soon as the food begins to distend you lowly by a single teaspoonful of

COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE

AND IT WILL Relieve You Instantaneously, and thus enable you, by hearty eating, and the

the care after each meal, (as often as the stomach is able to receive) and in a very few days so that you can do without medicine. If you cannot get your first bottle used up, we will guarantee you a second bottle free. If you are not hearty a breakfast as you over eat dinner and are not vigorous, and we will forfeit to you the value of the medicine if it does not correct the trouble.

The medicine is powerful but harmless, and a single teaspoonful will at once relieve the dyspepsia, and if continued will cure it, without injury him, as it is entirely vegetable and does not operate. All classes of disease that have the stomach as a seat, and all diseases of the stomach in the same instantaneous way, by the use of

GOE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE

Fever and Ague, Sick-Headache, Sickness of the Stomach, Constipation, Heartburn, Colic, Pains in the Stomach or Bowels, Dysentery, Vomiting, Indigestion, a feeling of Fullness and Lazing, Loss of Sleep, Want of Appetite, will not and cannot exist where the cure is used. It removes the disease of the stomach, and restores the system to its normal condition.

like Alcolite Bitters which cover up your bad taste for a few moments by their cakery Beware of cheap remedies or beverages, but remember that the only safe and reliable functions to their normal condition. The place has a remedy for the disease, and the entire human mechanism in perfect order, and upon principles of anatomy, with defined physiological laws. That such will be the feet of

COE'S DYSPESIA CURA

Immediately and instantaneously, we pledge ourselves as men of honor—our reputation as physicians—our favorable acquaintance with the professors of the World's Dispensary, to the "Bismarck," if it is used according to our directions, it will be known.

We add below some testimonials from our patients to women, to which we ask your attention.

TESTIMONIALS.

From the Pastor of the Methodist S. Church, Cona, Coon.

I have used Coe's Dyspepsia Cure in my family, and upon principles of anatomy, with defined physiological laws. That such will be the feet of

HENRY GIDMARE, Pastor, M. E. Church
 Madison, Conn., June 18, 1894.
A Voice from home through our City Pages Messrs. Editors.—Allow me, through you, to acknowledge my gratitude for the believable and beautiful story of the Dyppas.
 Although I was a great sufferer from Dyppas for many years, I have never been so comforted as to read anything I place, without feeling that I have enjoyed my suffering, and longed me. FALMIA LUTZ.
 Madison, Conn., June 30, 1894.
 From the benefit derived by the use of the Dyppas
 Cure is my firm conviction that the Dyppas
 I never intended to be without it and advise all are afflicted with Dyppas to use it.
 FRANKLIN LEE
 Mr. Coe.—The bottle of Coe's Dyppas Cure has been backed up your statement concerning the Dyppas Cure. I have used it for a apple shortcake or anything else, without feeling a charm. The relief is immediate.
 NEW HAVEN, June 19, 1894.
 Those who know my constitution, what my with me that a medicine that will reach my car will reach my car. I have a car. I have a car.

I called me to eat anything I please, and it is me in an instant. I use the medicine. It re-whole system is being strengthened by the New Haven, June 20, 1864. Mrs. R. A. W.

IM. ORTANT to Travelers.

While journeying on the cars, my stomach came badly deranged, causing severe pain and sickness. I tried to eat, but I could not be called sick-lickens. A lady sitting beside me said, "I have a medicine that will take a swallow." I did so, and in less than five minutes I was able to eat and drink.
"Cool's Dyspepsia Cure," and from the effect upon the stomach, and what I have learned since, I can say that it is the best medicine for the stomach, June 20, 1864.

Medicine, June 20, 1864.

New Haven, June 21st,
Messrs. C. G. Clark & Co.—Gentlemen—I
to make known the fact that I have been "Cool's Dyspepsia Cure," in cases of cholera
since, I can say that it is the best medicine stomach and bowels, every 15 minutes.

has always been told that there are some "dry" dysentery. My pallid face and my weak, aching limbs were the first signs of the trouble, and he asked me at once "what the matter was." I told him that I had been eating and purgative, and I am unable to stand the heat of the sun. He immediately ordered a cathartic, and I was almost instantly relieved of the distressing prostration. I then took some of Coley's Dysentery Cure, saying, "take as much as that if it does any good." After dinner."

My next comment took that first dose and mediates my sickness at stomach was gone—it was good a relief. In an hour I ate my dinner and was well cleared out of food, and followed by a feeling of relief. I was not aware of any incontinence since I took the remedy, and I was able to get up and walk about the house that I could hardly believe the evidence of my cure. I was desirous to publicly make the facts that I had been cured of my dysentery by use. Like bread, it should find a place in the medicine chest of every family, and I am away from home without a bottle of it in my pocket.

I have been well for some time.

Truly yours,
GEO. L. DRAKE

One of the Twenty-five.

New Haven, July 11th, 1890.

Mr. Con. S. H. HARRIS,
New Haven, Conn.

[illegible]

Orders by mail, from either dealers or consumers promptly attended to.

C. G. CLARK & CO.
Wholesale Druggists, New Haven, Conn.
Proprietors
Sold in Portland by W. F. Phillips, H. H. Marsh and all other dealers.